Async State Management with Redux Thunk

- Redux Thunk is a middleware that lets you write asynchronous actions (like API calls) in Redux.

- It allows action creators to return functions instead of plain objects.

- These functions can do async tasks (fetch data, wait, etc.) and then dispatch actions when ready.

React